Explore the timeless epic of the Ramayana from A to Z

A book that takes readers on a journey through the epic tale of bravery, devotion, and adventure. Each letter of the alphabet introduces a character or story from this timeless legend, making it fun and easy for kids to learn about the Ramayana.

From "A" for Ayodhya to "Z" for Zephyr of Peace, every page is filled with charming illustrations and easy-to-understand text that bring the epic to life.

Perfect for young readers, this book will help them understand the rich heritage of one of India's greatest stories.

Each letter of the alphabet introduces a character or story from this timeless legend

CHARIOT

After the marriage of Rama and Sita, King Janak happily sent them to Ayodhya on a beautiful golden chariot.

When they reached Ayodhya, everyone was very happy to see them. People danced and sang songs, expressing their happiness and excitement as they welcomed Rama and the new princess, Sita, to their city.

DASHARATHA

Dasharatha, the king of Ayodhya, was very happy to see them. He warmly welcomed the newlywed couple with open arms.

Dasharatha's three queens—Rama's mother Kausalya, Lakshmana and Shatrughna's mother Sumitra, and Bharata's mother Kaikeyi, were also overjoyed.

HANUMAN

Rama and Lakshmana searched everywhere for Sita, hoping to find any clue of her whereabouts. Along the way, they found an old wizard named Jambhvi, who was badly hurt. Jambhvi told Rama that he wanted to save Sita, but Rama cruelly chopped off his wings and took Sita away.

Deeply saddened by this tragic event, Rama and Lakshmana kept looking for Sita. During their journey, they met Hanuman, a devoted monkey God. They shared their story with Hanuman, who then led them to Sita.

WAR ENDS

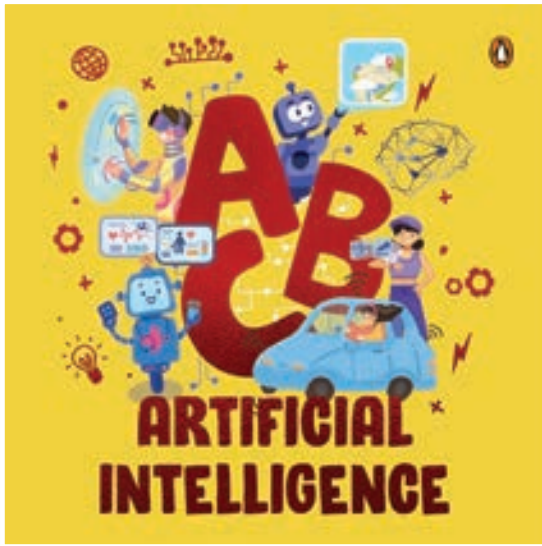

Upon learning of his son's death, Ravana's rage ignited. He stormed onto the battlefield, his ten heads raised and filled with arrogance.

Rama tried weapon after weapon at Ravana, but none could hurt him.

Whishvanta then revealed a crucial secret to Rama—to defeat Ravana, he needed to strike at the demon king's belly button, the source of his power. Rama carefully aimed and shot an arrow into Ravana's belly button. The hit proved fatal, and the powerful demon king Ravana died, ending the war.

With Ravana's defeat, Rama and Sita were finally reunited.

CATEGORY 10 Fruits and Vegetables

- 1 Pineapple is a berry.
Pineapple is not just a fruit but a berry; it belongs to a special group of fruits called "multiple fruits." This means it forms from many flowers merging together. The juicy part comes from lots of tiny fruits around the center.
- 2 Cranberry which does not bounce is probably a bad one.
Cranberries have tiny air pockets (small spaces) filled with air inside them, which is why they can bounce the rubber balls. This is because to a sign that the cranberries are fresh. If a cranberry does not bounce, it might have lost its air pocket, which could mean it is spoiled. This is a useful way to check if the cranberries are of great quality.
- 3 Apples float on water.
Apples can float on water because they have air inside them, which makes them lighter than water. This air makes the apple less heavy than water. When things are heavier than water, they sink. But when they are lighter, they float. Since apples are lighter than water, they float.
- 4 Cabbage has more than 90% of water content.
Cabbage is mostly made of water, about 90-95% of it. That is why it looks juicy when you eat it. As it has so much water, cabbage is not very high in calories. Eating cabbage can also keep you hydrated.

- 1 Eating bananas can bring a lot of joy.
Bananas are packed with important nutrients like vitamin B6. This vitamin is essential for making special chemicals, like serotonin and dopamine, that make you feel good. It also helps with your mood. Serotonin or "happy hormone" helps us feel happy. Dopamine is linked to pleasure and rewards and can also make us feel happy.

- 2 Bananas have seeds inside them.
Bananas used to have seeds, but they are not there anymore. However, wild bananas do have seeds, which can be used to grow new banana plants.

- 3 Avocados and tomatoes are actually called fruits by botanists.
Some foods that are often called vegetables are actually called fruits by botanists because they grow from a fruit.

- 4 Onions contain compounds that reduce inflammation.
Onions contain beneficial plant compounds that reduce inflammation and provide antioxidant benefits. They are also a good source of fiber. Onions are also a rich source of antioxidants, which can help protect your cells from damage.

- 5 Unlike other fruits, the seeds on the outside.
Most fruits have their seeds inside, but some fruits like strawberries have their seeds on the outside. These seeds are called achenes.

- 1 The Yangtze River is home to an endangered dolphin.
The Yangtze River dolphin, also known as the Baiji, is a critically endangered species. It is believed to have gone extinct in the 1980s. The river is one of the longest in the world and is home to many other species.

- 2 The Colorado River has created the Grand Canyon.
The Colorado River has carved out the Grand Canyon over millions of years. The erosion process was caused by the river cutting through the rock. The Grand Canyon is a UNESCO World Heritage Site and attracts millions of visitors annually.

- 3 The Mississippi River is North America's largest river system.
The Mississippi River has an extensive system of tributaries, making it one of the largest river systems in the world. It flows for about 3,700 miles (5,950 kilometers) through several US states. The Mississippi River has played a significant role in American history and culture. It has been the subject of numerous songs, stories, and movies.

- 4 A river flowing through 10 countries.
The Danube River flows through ten countries: Germany, Austria, Slovakia, Hungary, Croatia, Serbia, Bulgaria, Romania, and Ukraine. It is one of the world's longest rivers and is a major transportation route.

- 5 The largest freshwater fish can be found in the Mekong River.
The Mekong River is home to the largest freshwater fish, the Mekong giant catfish. It can grow up to 3 meters (10 feet) long and weigh as much as 2,500 kilograms (5,500 pounds). It is found in the Mekong basin, which includes parts of China, Laos, Cambodia, and Vietnam.

- 6 The Rhine River is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.
The Rhine River is recognized for its picturesque cities, vineyards, and charming towns along its banks, making it a popular destination for tourists. The river valley is designated as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, celebrated for its stunning natural and cultural landscapes.

CATEGORY 13 Space

- 1 The biggest asteroid ever found is as wide as 500 miles.
The largest asteroid discovered in our solar system is Ceres. It is about 588 miles (948 kilometers) wide. Ceres is located in the asteroid belt between Mars and Jupiter. It was discovered in 1801 and is the largest object in the asteroid belt. Its size and composition make it difficult to categorize it as either an asteroid or a dwarf planet.
- 2 There is no animal or echo in space.
In outer space, there is no air or sound, so it is super-quiet. Animals and spacesuits can only talk to each other in space. This is why astronauts use radios to communicate. There is also no echo in space because there is no air to reflect sound waves back to you.
- 3 The highest mountain ever discovered is on an asteroid.
The asteroid Vesta has one of the tallest mountains ever discovered in our solar system. The mountain is called Rheasilvia, and it is approximately 13.7 miles (22.1 kilometers) high. Vesta is one of the largest asteroids in the asteroid belt between Mars and Jupiter.
- 4 Just like there is trash on Earth, there is also junk in space.
In space, there is a lot of old junk floating around, similar to trash on Earth. This junk is called "space junk" and it includes old satellites, parts of rockets, and bits from accidents and explosions.
